

Adult Learning – Books for Purchase

The design of education

Cyril Orvin Houle

Jossey-Bass Publishers, 1996 - Education - 282 pages

From Amazon.com – Review

"Rarely does an author produce a classic text and then continue to improve it. Cyril Houle has done just that with the second edition of the Design of Education, which contains fresh, new insights about how adult educators can use the system to improve their program-planning efforts. Houle's writings are always thought provoking and this book is no exception."

—Ronald M. Cervero, professor, department of adult education, The University of Georgia

"This second edition of a classic continues to be one of the most thoughtful and comprehensive treatises on designing educational programs for adults."

—Rosemary S. Caffarella, author of Planning Programs for Adult Learners

Product Description

In this revised second edition, Houle offers an up-to-date blueprint for planning, setting up, and evaluating adult education programs of any size--along with specific guidance that shows educators how to use his model to implement the type of program best suited to their needs and the needs of their learners.

From the Back Cover

In this revised second edition, Houle adds almost twenty-five years of additional experience and reflection to this classic work as he sets forth the goals and objectives of adult learning that cut across all settings and levels--uniting adult educators everywhere. Charting out the common ground of adult education program, Houle emphasizes the importance of a systematic approach to program planning as a central unifying feature of adult education theory and practice. He offers an up-to-date blueprint for planning, setting up, and evaluating adult education programs of any size--along with specific guidance that shows educators how to use his model to implement the type of program best suited to their needs and the needs of their learners.

About the Author

CYRIL O. HOULE is professor emeritus of education at the University of Chicago and senior program consultant for the W.K. Kellogg Foundation. The author of numerous books on higher education, Houle has published books in every decade since the 1930s. His many honors and awards include the Tolley medal, membership in the National Academy of Education, and honorary doctorates from eleven American universities.